Skills are a form of currency in the working world. The more skills you have, the more valuable you are as an employee, which means you'll be more attractive to more potential employers, you'll be able to make more money, and you'll be able to do more once you land your ideal position. Technical skills are the specialized knowledge and expertise required to perform specific tasks and use specific tools and programs in real world situations. Civil Department conducted a workshop activity session on sink construction. This activity helped the students to have more knowledge on practical implementation of the concepts
